The image displays a musical score for an organ, consisting of four systems of staves. Each system includes a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) and a single bass staff. The music is in D major, indicated by three sharps in the key signature. The first two systems begin at measure 61. The third system begins at measure 65 and includes the instruction 'molto rit.' above the treble staff. The score concludes with a double bar line and repeat signs at the end of the fourth system.
